

Phoenix

© Music & Lyrics Rogier Avis

if things don't work out for you you're trying hard, but the world won't move there is something you can do just let go and start anew

If it's too, too much to handle you're going down, no one to the rescue It's not the end of the world
just let go and start anew

survive the flames rise from the ashes get yourself a new skin

If life blows up reinvent yourself like a Phoenix

sometimes, life is just misery and there seems no hope at all pushing through may not be the answer
just let go and start anew

and if you had the choice you'd do it all again there is no regrets, no sorrow don't ever get disappointed 'cause there is no control you've got to roll, roll with the punches
