

What Does She Feel (2020)

© Music & Lyrics Rogier Avis her eyes are shiny steel blue they penetrate your brain she keeps you at a distance (and) you will be her fool still you will believe her cause you want her to be with you she kills without you dying no mercy for your soul coldness will surround you if you let her into your life

What does she say
What does she hear What does she take What does she give What does she know
What does she feel

She tells you, you can trust her but lets you down each time
still you will believe her

and when she really leaves you, will you be glad or sad and when you look back, what will you think of yourself 'cause you don't know, if it was, either good or bad she can suck you into a world of her own and as it grows upon you she might throw you out
